How to introduce yourselves to the class

- On the first day, each participant will introduce her/himself to the class in 10 minutes: not only name, area of study and home country, but also her/his previous education, and what she/he expects from the Autumn CSR school;
- You may use the style you prefer: a slide presentation or an introduction without slides. Every style is welcome (also song, poem, play music), as it is a school of communication, rather than a scientific meeting or a job interview.

For practice on written and oral communication in class

- It should be useful to bring at the CSR school examples of written and oral works made by the participants;
- examples of written compositions: poster, abstract, scientific paper, or the table of contents of Master/PhD thesis. It should be better to have this material in paper, especially poster, as we will post them in class.
- examples of oral compositions: slide presentation for scientific meetings, report of the final year (for PhD students), or slide presentation of Master/PhD defence.

Logistic information

Travelling to/from Italy

Due to Covid-19 pandemic dispositions, the participants should carefully read the information for travellers from UE and non-UE countries, which are available on the Italian Ministry of Health website:

<http://www.salute.gov.it/portale/nuovocoronavirus/homeNuovoCoronavirus.jsp?lingua=english>

All the participants are requested to respect the indications of Italian institutions for pandemic, to have the Covid-19 Green Certificate, and to wear the facial masks, which is mandatory indoor.

Registration

Registration fee: € 500 by November 10, 2021

The registration fee does not include:

- accommodation and meals
- any other additional costs.

Please, make sure that you are covered by your current medical insurance policy or that you have purchased a traveller policy which is valid also in Italy, if in your country you have one.

CSR grants for the participants

- Since 2020, a “CSR fund” has been established, which intends to favourite the participation of young researchers to the CSR school. The fund has been ideated by several Italian CSR alumni who wish to help their peers to have access to the CSR training;

- this year the “CSR fund” offers two grants of € 150 each which are addressed to highly motivated young researchers who cannot cover the whole cost of the CSR school. Priority will be given to those ones who live in the Mediterranean area (especially the Balkans, Maghreb and the Middle East), as well as to the young researchers who live in Central and Southern Africa, and in Central and Southern America;

- for applying to the CSR grant send your CV with a cover letter, by indicating the reasons for joining the CSR school 2021, your interests and expectations on this kind of training. Applications should be addressed to: info@comunicazionericercascientifica.it

The deadline for applications is October 25, 2021.

The applicants will be informed by October 28, 2021.

Cancellation policy

In case of cancellation, the registration fee is usually not refunded. Nevertheless, if the cancellation is due to Covid-19 infection, the registration fee will be refunded.

Payment details

The details for payment will be provided to the participants soon after their registration.

The payment will be via a bank transfer, and all bank charges related to the money transfer will be borne by the payer.
